Rescue Squad Urges Care In Winter Driving

Records Show Big Increase In Number of Accidents

Antioch Rescue squad records show that a serious increase in automobile accidents has taken place during the past few months. William Banett, acting secretary of the squad, released information this week which shows that since the ending of the war and the ending of gasoline rationing accidents on the roads have made a tremendous jump.

The 1945 report shows that while the squad treated five cases of automobile injuries during the first six months of 1945, the past six months have seen fourteen calls. Five cases of this nature have already been recorded this year. Blaming increased traffic on the roads as well as winter driving conditions, the squadmen urge that all motorists observe all safety rules, especially during the winter months.

The squad's committee for accident prevention, headed by Lieut. Herman Rosing, is seeking to obtain help from the Illinois state highway department in making lake region roads safer. Rosing said that his committee would meet with accident prevention officials of the department in an effort to mark danger points on local roads. He stated that such places as route 59 near Emmons school, where several accidents occur each year, would be inspected with an eye to removing hazards.

Squad Makes 124 Calls in 1945
The resume of 1945 calls showed that a total of 124 calls were made during the year. Besides the 19 calls in cases of automobile accidents, 18 were made for cases of heart attack, 31 cases of farm accidents and home accidents were treated, and 15 calls of a minor nature were answered. The squad answers all fire calls and stood by at 16 fires during the year.

While no drowning cases were recorded in the local lakes, the squad was called once each to Cross Lake, Camp Lake and Round lake to take over rescue work there.

About 3,400 miles were traveled in making the calls and an average of four men per call responded to the calls. Average time spent on each case was 3 hours 5 minutes. Banett's figures show that about 19 days were spent by each of the ten members in actually answering the calls. He said that if records had been kept on the time spent in maintaining the equipment, meetings, and other duties of the various members, that the time spent by each member would undoubtedly be much greater.

Returned Servicemen Swell Roll
The squad operated during the war years with only ten active members, six of the regulars having been with the armed services. Since the war's ending most of these men are now back on the job and have reported for duty with the squad. They include: Geo. Bartlett, Jr., Howard Strang, Henry Quadenfeld, Jim McMillen, Laurel D. Powles and Charles Larson, who has been here on furlough.

Members of the squad who carried the full load during the absence of almost one half of the membership include: Herman Holbek, captain; Herman Rosing, 1st Lieut.; Walter I. Scott, 2nd Lieut.; Wm. Banett, acting secretary; Einar Petersen, president; Lloyd Murrie, Fred Yates, Henry Rentner, Morris Pickus, and R. F. Allner, squadmen.

The squad is to be congratulated on the fine record of achievement that has been made all during the years since its organization, and the men who have made it possible may be justly proud. Antioch is indeed fortunate to be possessor of the Antioch Rescue squad, one of the finest organizations of its kind in the state.

Dear Editor:
Here is another change of address it isn't too much of a change, but it is a change anyway. I am in Service Co. 331st Inf. I was in Co. L till yesterday but I have been transferred. I am driving a truck here in Austria now. This is a fairly good country but too many mountains.

There is plenty of deer here also. The hunters in and around Antioch could get the limit in an hour or two. I have never seen so many in these hills. Better than Wisconsin.

But I would rather be in Wisconsin or good old Antioch right now. I have seen all of Europe that I care to see.

I miss that good old Antioch News plenty. I haven't seen a copy in the last ten weeks now, but there is such a mail mix up that it takes a long time.

Here is my correct address below. I sure hope this address will be the last one that I get. By the way, this is the 83rd division.

Pfc. Ray Lasco 36980984 Service Co. 331st Inf. APO 83 c/o P.M. New York, N. Y. 83rd Div.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Second Ice Fishing Mishap Occurs Mon.

Gene McDonald, 209 Sherman Ave., Waukegan, lay on the ice of Sand Lake for more than an hour last Monday afternoon, after a fall which broke his hip. He had been fishing about 400 feet from the shore of the lake and was not noticed by persons on shore for some time.

The Antioch Rescue squad was summoned to the scene and took the injured man to St. Therese hospital, Waukegan.

Preliminary Survey Completed By Antioch Zoning Commission

Tentative zoning of the village was completed last night at a meeting of the Antioch Zoning commission.

All members of the commission were present and the evening was spent in going over a map prepared by Clarence Shultis. Different classes of zones worked out will include zones for heavy and light manufacturing, apartment buildings and residences.

The map which was prepared previously will be revised by Shultis, who has been employed by the board as topographer, and the revised map will be given to the village attorney for drafting the proposed ordinance. It is hoped that this work may be completed during the next two months. After the first draft of the ordinance has been read and passed on by the village board, public hearings will be held in order to give all property owners within the village a chance to protest the regulations or to make suggestions.

The ordinance will define types of buildings which may be constructed in the different zones and will also provide machinery for a permanent board of appeals.

Wauconda To Oppose New Town Basketball Team Here Jan. 23

That Wauconda will be the first opponent of the newly organized Antioch town basketball team was learned today from Ed Frazer, athletic director of the local Legion Post, sponsors of the team.

The first game will be played here Wednesday, January 23. Other games which are scheduled will include a tangle with Lake Forest on January 29 on their floor, and a game with Elia township team on the Antioch township high school court, Jan. 30.

Twenty-two players were on hand for the practice session last night and coaches of the team are enthusiastic about the interest shown by local young men. Frazer said that the team will continue to seek new players from the community and that any men wishing to participate in the activity should report at the local gym any Wednesday night.

The move to organize the team here is part of a program which is being sponsored by the Antioch Legion post, and other teams will be organized during the baseball season. Suits for the basketball team have been donated by the Antioch Lions club.

All men who are interested in the athletic program are invited to attend the Legion meeting in the Legion home this evening. Officers will be elected for the new team and the officers of the Legion will provide a feed for the men.

Camp Lake Couple Injured in Auto Accident Friday

Three-way Crash on Rt. 21 Injures Two Persons

Arthur A. Buhrow of Camp Lake, Wisconsin suffered a ruptured blood vessel in his neck last Friday when his car struck the rear of a Willow Farms Dairy truck on route 21 near Horton's Boat shop.

The accident occurred when Al Kumpfer, Antioch, passed the truck and lost control of his car on the icy roads, skidding in front of the truck. William Preuss, LaGrange, driver of the truck was forced to make an emergency stop with the large semi-trailer and Buhrow, who had been following the truck, was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the truck.

The Pontiac coach driven by Kumpfer was damaged extensively as was the car driven by Buhrow.

Mrs. Buhrow, who was with her husband sustained cuts and bruises on the face and legs.

The Antioch Rescue squad gave emergency treatment to the injured persons and brought them to Antioch where they received further care.

Theatres to Aid "March of Dimes"

That Antioch theatres will again aid in the "March of Dimes" drive for funds in Antioch township was revealed today by Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk, local chairman of the drive.

Kufalk stated that both William Lemke, owner of the Lakes theatre, and Fred B. Swanson, owner of the Antioch theatre have signified the intention of doing everything possible to aid the drive. Arrangements will be made to secure a short film showing victims of Polio and also showing the work which funds from the drive makes possible in the treatment and care of Polio victims.

As in past years, a collection will be taken up at each showing of the film. It will be shown Jan. 24 to 30 inclusive at both theatres.

Kufalk expressed the hope that Antioch's quota for the drive could be met and emphasized the fact that one-half of all money collected here will remain within the county for the care of our own children. Of the remaining one-half, part is spent in research, to try to discover the cause of the dreaded disease and the remaining part is spent where the disease is more prevalent or where epidemics occur.

Collection boxes will be placed in Antioch business places this week for those who wish to make contributions. Checks for the fund may be mailed direct to Roy I. Kufalk, "March of Dimes" Chairman, Antioch.

Mrs. Clara Westlake returned home Sunday after spending the past three weeks in Cincinnati, Ohio, with her daughter, Mrs. Monte Hinton, and family.

Calvin Behler of Woodstock is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Homer B. Gaston, and other relatives in Antioch this week.

Jensen Raps State Bangs Control Law

Local Veterinarian Asks Testing of Out-of-State Animals

January 18.—Bang's disease, or brucellosis of cattle, is causing economic loss and also has become a serious health hazard in Illinois and the people of the state should not tolerate political interference in the enactment of laws for its effective control. This warning was given here today at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association, by Dr. G. W. Jensen, Antioch, chairman of a special committee.

Senator Simon E. Lantz, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee "conscientiously gave much time and effort to preparation and adoption" of a revised law for control of the disease, Doctor Graham asserted, "but it still is a compromise between political expediency and efficient disease control."

"The law makes no provisions, until July 1, 1947, for control of the interstate movement of untested animals from badly infected herds, thus continuing a danger that has seriously delayed our progress. One reason given was that compulsory testing would slow up the process of cattle trading. It is well established that this unregulated traffic in infected and exposed cattle always has been, and is today, the chief cause for the spread of Bang's disease throughout Illinois."

Methods outlined in the law for preventing the importation into Illinois of infected or exposed animals were characterized by Doctor Jensen as "confusing and ineffective, and not in accord with the direct, effective proposal requested by Senator Ray Paddock, farmer and dairyman with many years' experience in tuberculosis eradication. We must prevent a repetition of the early, disorganized and costly days of our tuberculosis control work. A very valuable addition to the law would be an appropriation for an intensive continuous program for research and study into the many problems that still confront us in fighting Bang's disease."

Lions Enjoy Motion Pictures Monday

The largest and one of the most enjoyable meetings of the Antioch Lions club was held at Hans and Mable's, Monday, Jan. 14, 1946.

Fifty eight attended to witness the showing of sound movies of the Cubs—Detroit World Series baseball pictures arranged for by Mr. Irving Vaughn of the Chicago Tribune. Mr. T. R. Birkhead, Principal of the Antioch High school, provided movies of various football games played by the Chicago Bears with other teams of the Professional league and some golf pictures showing some of the professionals in regular and slow motion which were quite instructive. Coach Kurzan was a guest of the Club and assisted Mr. Birkhead in operating the projector.

A brief business meeting was held before the pictures were shown.

Lions Dr. D. N. Deering, James W. McMillen, Louis Nielsen and Edmund Vos were appointed to assist Sec. F. J. Arnold in preparing a resolution, to be sent to Director Livingston Osbourne of the Department of Conservation, which is hoped will reduce the Red Fox menace.

Lion John P. Miller was reappointed to continue the clothing collection.

A donation of $25.00 was voted to the Sister Kenny Foundation.

Six new members were approved and the transfer of another Lion to the Antioch club was sanctioned.

All other business was suspended until the next regular meeting to be held Monday, Jan. 24, 1946.

"Checkergraph" Features Antioch Milling Company

The Antioch Milling Company was featured in "Checkergraph" national publication of Purina Mills in its December 1945 issue.

The article, which covers an entire page of the magazine, was illustrated with pictures of the building and of George Wagner, manager. Tracing the developments of the business since its beginning in 1917, the article gave special emphasis to the recent growth of the business since the building was rebuilt.

Part of the story follows: "While it is not exactly the recommended way to increase volume and profits, a destructive fire started the Antioch Milling Company of Antioch, Ill., on the road to both."

"The fire might have been disastrous but for the foresight of manager George Wagner. An outside salesman and feeding advisor, Wagner had been employed by the firm since 1932. He was made Manager in 1939 following the death of the former manager, his father.

"One of his first acts as head of the business was to increase the insurance which at that time totalled only $8,000, a grossly inadequate figure."

The following year, the office and most of the mill were leveled by fire. "In the rebuilding program, Wagner could see the tremendous possibilities for a farm supply business provided adequate merchandising and display facilities were made available."

"The Antioch Milling Company, in business since 1917, had served the community well with feed and milling. Prior to the fire the firm's only salesroom was a small office. Sales of Sanitation, poultry equipment and related items were almost negligible. "From the ashes of that fire arose a large modern display room. The farm supplies, Sanitation Products and allied lines sold in that display room were largely responsible for a $40,000 increase in sales the first year. Last year's sales exceeded sales for 1939 by $180,000."

Village Granted $3,573 Federal Planning Funds

Money for Planning New Municipal Bldg.; Sewage Plant

Antioch's plans for a new city hall and rebuilding of the sewage disposal plant were one step forward this week when the Federal Works Agency approved project number 11-P-252, which provides for a new municipal building to be erected at a cost of approximately $32,500 and improvements to the sewage disposal plant, project number 11-P-253, at a cost of about $36,500.

Moneys available for immediate use by the village for use in preparing drawings, engineering work and advance planning amount to $2,100 for the municipal building and $1,463 for the same use in connection with the disposal plant improvement.

Former application for the federal aid was made by village authorities early in December, 1945.

It was pointed out by Village Clerk Roy Murrie that the Federal Works Agency funds must be matched by a like amount by the village and that the fund can be used only for advance planning and no part of the money obtained from either federal or state agencies may be used for actual construction work.

C. K. Anderson is Appointed Member Of Waterways Comm.

C. K. Anderson has been appointed a member of a committee which is to work with the state waterways commission, it was announced this week by Governor Dwight Green.

The survey will take in the river and the adjoining land for about five miles, on each side from Ottawa to the Wisconsin state line, a distance of 115 miles. This area lies in LaSalle, Kendall, Kane, McHenry and Lake counties and includes the Fox Chain O'Lakes.

The Governor announced the make-up of a committee to work with the Post-War commission on the survey, as follows:

Walter E. Miller, mayor of Elgin; Andrew J. Carter, mayor of Aurora; R. I. Overton, mayor of McHenry; Lester J. Norris, St. Charles; Robert Kingery, Chicago; Fred A. Sapp, Ottawa; C. K. Rosenfield, director of the state department of public works and buildings is vice-chairman.

Here Today, Gone Tomorrow

Anyone who has had experience with construction work during the past few years, knows that the grim statistics of building costs, shortages and pent-up demand are all too true. The plain fact is that it is nearly impossible to build anything. Those who are fortunate enough to own homes and other property should be thankful indeed—thankful and doubly cautious to see that fire does not destroy them.

However, what people should do and what they actually do are two very different things. Estimates of fire losses in the United States in November were $37,393,000, an increase of nearly $3,000,000 over October, 1945, and 10 per cent higher than in November, 1944. This loss is the highest of any reported for November in the last 16 years.

The nation is as careless with its property now as in the most abundant days of peace. Far too many homes, factories and similar places of business are literally choked with hazards that could be removed easily and quickly. Thousands of structures will be destroyed because of failure to remove these hazards. Countless people will suffer needless hardship and an untold number will die. It will be months and perhaps years before reconstruction can begin. This is the story of the buildings that are here today and will be gone tomorrow. Most of them could be saved, along with the lives that will be lost and can never be replaced.

Fire prevention authorities strive by every means at their command to reach the people with the message of fire prevention. They believe that eventually they will be heard. Certainly, with property values soaring to new highs and the difficulties of replacements reaching the point of impossibility, they should be heard now if ever.

Following The Failures

Anyone who has temerity to oppose the elaborate scheme now before Congress to regiment and socialize American medicine, subjects himself to criticism as a reactionary, an enemy of the underprivileged—whatever they may be—an opponent of progress, etc., etc. As a matter of fact, the whole scheme is but part of the plan to graft European state socialism on to our free economy.

The proposed Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill before Congress is claimed to be the result of suggestions of outstanding medical authorities and of labor, farm, consumer and health organizations interested in improving the nation's health. But, according to the American Medical Association, neither the President, the author of the bill, nor the Social Security Board made any attempt to consult any representatives of the American Medical Association which embraces in its membership more than 125,000 American physicians.

The method that is being used to socialize medicine is typical of government by bureaucrats. When they want to put something over on the people they consult advisers who are known in advance to be in complete agreement with the bureaucrats.

The plan to place American medicine under the control of the Federal government through a system of Federal compulsory sickness insurance, is but another step in a well-organized program in this country to socialize utilities, various industries, finance, and eventually labor itself. The whole program apes the defunct German system and the expanding socialist government of Great Britain. It is all part of a plan to change our nation from a leader into a follower of has-beens, under which individuals, rather than the people, gain power. It represents the kind of regimentation that led to totalitarianism in Germany. Under the guise of promoting public health, one of the most worthwhile objectives in the world, it seeks to establish taxation by indirectness through deductions from the pay checks of workers and the earnings of employers.

Already American workers know how "deductions" are cutting into "take home" pay. "Compulsory" deductions for socialized medicine would be another step toward placing the American worker in the position of the socialized German worker who had more deductions from his wages, for government spending, than he had "take home" pay.

It is time to kick compulsion out of the window if we wish to remain a free people.

No Freedom Without Free Markets

The New York Stock Exchange points out a fact in a recent advertisement that the American people seem to have almost forgotten; namely, that the foundation of freedom in the United States is "free markets." Our country was built on that basis. Every individual had the right to produce and sell to the limit of his ability. We have just fought a second World War to uphold the right to personal freedom. How far freedom of the individual will be assured, remains to be seen. But without free markets, there will be no free opportunity.

The United States was built by the courage and initiative of individuals. While this nation was growing strong under the stimulus of free opportunity, free markets and the opportunity for profit, European nations were decaying and the people becoming pawns of power-seeking politicians. For some years we have been copying more and more the European system under which government, in return for a bogus form of security, takes over the rights of the individual and limits his freedom of opportunity.

State socialism and free markets do not exist together.

day night the Mukwonago team will play there here.

The Junior Class is practicing under the direction of Mary Newell for their class play to be presented in March. They have chosen the play "My Heart is in High."

There will be instructions at the Holy Name church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for the children. Masses on Sunday are at 8:00 and 10:00 a. m.

Legion Auxiliary Is Staging New Membership Campaign

Support for the activities of the American Legion by women of veterans' families was urged by Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Membership chairman of Antioch Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, in a call for enrollment of Auxiliary members issued today.

"The Legion is fighting the battles of the veterans and is exerting a tremendous influence for the good of America," said Mrs. Kennedy. "The American Legion Auxiliary is going forward shoulder to shoulder with the Legion in these endeavors. A part in almost all Legion activities is assigned to the Auxiliary and we need increased membership strength to carry this responsibility.

"At this time the Auxiliary is offering the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of all Legionnaires an opportunity to share their Legion interests and activities with them during the coming year," Mrs. Kennedy continued. "The year of 1946 will be one of the most active in Legion history, with many important issues at stake and big events scheduled. Women of the Auxiliary will be working side by side with the men of the Legion to make the year a complete success.

"Auxiliary members share in Legion social events, as well as in the work of its serious program. A membership in the Auxiliary strengthens family ties by providing common interests, friends and activities."

Enrollment of Auxiliary members for 1946 is going forward rapidly, with more than 100 per cent of the Unit's 1945 strength already enrolled. Many women newly eligible through World War II have become members and are taking an active part in the work of the organization.

Invitations are being extended to others as rapidly as they become eligible through enrollment of veterans of their families in the Legion.

Mrs. Kennedy and her membership committee are extending an invitation to come into the Auxiliary to all mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Legion members or deceased veterans, in Antioch, and to all women who served in the WAC, WAVES, Spars or Women's Reserve of the Marine Corps. Women of families which have lost members in the war are eligible to Gold Star membership.

Thomas E. Kennedy In County Sheriff Race

Friends of Thomas E. Kennedy today started circulating petitions for his nomination as Republican candidate for sheriff, subject to the primary election April 9 and the general election next Nov. 5.

They also opened their campaign in support of his candidacy, basing it solely on his past record as a law enforcement officer. Kennedy has served one previous term as sheriff, from 1938 to 1942.

He began his career as a peace officer in 1921, joining the Waukegan police department as a patrolman and rising to the office of assistant chief of police.

Appointed chief deputy sheriff in 1930, he then installed a new and complete system of fingerprinting, photography and records in the sheriff's office, and also developed the highway patrol and radio broadcast and block-ade system.

Kennedy has been chief deputy under three different sheriffs, as well as serving one term as sheriff. He was prevented by state law from seeking re-election in 1942. In 1942, he was appointed chief deputy by his successor, Sheriff Walter L. Atkinson.

Kennedy also is a graduate of the FBI national academy in Washington, D. C., having completed the course under the supervision of J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director. In 1941 he returned to Washington for further FBI classes in national defense and security.

He was selected to lecture to police and sheriffs in closed classes that were sponsored by the FBI in cities throughout the middle west. He served on the faculty of training conferences held by the FBI in Waukegan, Rockford, Ottawa and Chicago.

Kennedy, who will have completed 25 years of continuous law enforcement service in Lake county next month, 23 years of it World War II.

Millgate Farms To Sell Gilts, Feb. 1

Encouraged by the widespread interest in its first public sale of top bred stock a year ago, Millgate Farms, at Wadsworth, Ill., is looking for another heavy attendance when it presents its 1946 offerings of choice Hampshire gilts on Friday noon, Feb. 1.

As an added feature of the sale, Millgate, which is owned by George W. Rosetter and Sons, will stage a special exhibit of its prize shorthorn herd. It is sired by Eddelvin Royal Leader 8th, the highest priced shorthorn bull sold since World War I.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

DICK: "I wonder how the distillers feel about that new movie built around an alcoholic."

OLD JUDGE: "It's funny you asked that, Dick... I was just reading a piece about it."

DICK: "What did it say?"

OLD JUDGE: "A very sensible statement. It said the beverage distillers are fully aware of this problem and are cooperating in every way possible to help solve it. The alcoholic is to the beverage distilling industry what the reckless driver is to the automobile industry. There is nothing wrong with the automobile, but in the hands of a man who doesn't know how to drive it or is reckless, it becomes a menace. Likewise, it's not the use but the abuse of alcoholic beverages that causes trouble."

DICK: "Wonder why it is most men can drink moderately and others can't?"

OLD JUDGE: "Intensive research at a great university has shown that most excessive drinkers are really sick people. They are suffering from some physical, social or emotional upset. And great strides have been made in developing clinical methods of helping these unfortunate people."

SMART FARMERS ARE SAYING "I'LL TAKE MY FERTILIZER NOW!"

"I used to wait until spring to buy my fertilizer. But times have changed! Today there is still a shortage of labor for handling deliveries; potash and phosphates are in greater demand than available supplies can take care of. Every farmer will want to step up yields again next year. I know, from long experience, that the best way to do this is with ANTIOCH MLG. CO. SOIL BUILDERS. I've seen how it increased yields of corn selected year after year for National and State Corn Husking Contests. It's my first choice among fertilizers.

"No one can tell what delays or other shortages we may have this spring. I am changing my buying habits and getting ANTIOCH MILLING CO.'s fertilizer NOW."

Hen Needs Auto Ride Before Laying Egg

LINTON, IND. — A reporter spied a hen in a parked car on a busy city street, cackling over a newly laid egg.

Investigation disclosed that Covert McBride brought his pet hen to town quite often. "I have to take her for an auto ride every morning, or she won't lay an egg," he explained.

Pushes Wife 65 Mi. Looking for Job

Discharged Vet Finds Tough Going on Country Roads.

DANVILLE, ILL.—William Beam, 34, discharged army veteran, admitted that he was "a bit tired" of walking and was looking around for a job as chauffeur "so I can ride a little."

Beam arrived here over the weekend after pushing his crippled wife in her wheel chair from Terre Haute, Ind., a distance of 65 miles.

He said it was "tough going" along the country roads on hot days and the trip took six days. The last night, as they reached Possum Trot bridge on Danville's outskirts, the couple slept outdoors beside the highway. The other days they stopped at farms en route where Beam would do chores for food and overnight lodging.

Mrs. Beam, 40, said she didn't mind the trip a bit, as she tapped some tobacco into her corn cob pipe and asked an interviewer for a match. A native of Georgia, she says that Danville is as far north as she'd ever been.

"I am not an invalid and can do my own housework, but I can't do much walking. I could never have made the trip if Bill hadn't pushed me," Mrs. Beam said.

Beam, who was discharged for disability from the 4th armored division in 1943, was asked why the couple chose this mode of travel. He said:

"You don't see much of the country riding in a bus; besides, I wanted to look around for a job en route."

Mrs. Beam refused to permit a photographer to take her picture, saying she had never been photographed in her life and wasn't going to start now.

Careless Japanese Saves U. S. Lieutenant's Life

TULSA, OKLA.—The son of former Oklahoma House Speaker Johnson D. Hill is alive to tell of his experience with a careless Japanese. The story was learned here by Hill from his son, Lt. J. D. Hill Jr., now in Letterman hospital in San Francisco, Calif.

Hill, who is recuperating from a shell wound, was a platoon leader of the 27th Infantry (New York) division and was hit on his second day in combat on the bloody Ryukyus islands.

"The carelessness of a Japanese saved my life," young Hill said. "A mortar shell hit me squarely in the back, but luckily the gunner had failed to pull the safety pin and the projectile did not explode."

Hill worked on the Sacramento (Calif.) Bee newspaper before he enlisted in 1942. He earned a commission in the coast artillery, but later was assigned to the infantry.

Besides Hill's parents, his wife and small son live in Tulsa.

Shoots His Wife While Dancing, Then Kills Self

CHICAGO, ILL. — While they danced cheek to cheek to the strains of "I'll Keep on Loving You," Edward Rzeszutko, 28, shot his pretty wife in the neck, then turned the gun on himself, police said.

Mrs. Rzeszutko, 27, was reported in critical condition. Rzeszutko, a clerk, died almost immediately.

Friends told police that the tragedy occurred in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wojcik, who were giving a homecoming party for their soldier son.

None of the guests was able to explain Rzeszutko's actions. The couple were happily married, they said, and apparently devoted to their three-year-old son.

They said three couples were dancing when two shots were heard. "Are you shot, honey?" Rzeszutko was heard to ask. "Yes," his wife replied. "Then I might as well finish the job," he said, and fired a third bullet into his head.

Stays at Wheel Despite Flames on His Gas Truck

GREEN BAY, WIS.—With flames shooting 20 feet from the rear of a tank truck loaded with 5,000 gallons of gasoline, Robert Miller, 26, of Route 5, Green Bay, remained at the steering wheel for five blocks to get the vehicle out of the west side business district.

Firemen put out the flames with only slight loss. Prevention of an explosion was attributed to the melting of safety plugs on the top of the tank, releasing vapor pressure from the interior.

Miller said he believed that gasoline spilled on top of the tank when it was being loaded ran over the rear end and down a safety chain, and was ignited from a spark.

The Golden Stool

By ETHELYN PARKINSON
McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Features.

AT THEIR first breakfast in Linwood, Ellen Hamilton asked anxiously, "John, will you look up your Uncle Comstock? Or shall we wait for him to call?"

John's lip twitched. "Let's get settled first, dear. And aren't you expecting Lucille Smythe and her father soon? You'll be busy."

"John, I'll certainly have time for Uncle Comstock."

Ellen set out to find him that day. He wasn't in the phone book, so she consulted the city directory. Comstock Whitney Hamilton resided at 33 Reber street. Ellen took a taxi across the river, down Main street, across another rather smelly little river, to a strangely rural looking community.

"You must be wrong," she said to the driver. "I'm looking for the residence of Mr. Comstock Whitney Hamilton."

"That's it, ma'am." He pointed to a tumble-down cottage. "But," he grinned, "if you want to see old Ham, look for him in front of Pete's Place at the east end of the bridge. He's held down a bench there for twenty years."

"Are you sure you're not mistaken?" Ellen asked frigidly. "Ma'am, everyone in Linwood knows those old fixtures in front of Pete's—swapping lies and spitting. There's old Ham, old Joe Horner—"

"Never mind," Ellen said. "Take me there."

That night she said to John, "You should have seen how overcome poor Uncle Comstock was. I felt so ashamed! Your own uncle, sitting on that hard old bench with those horrid men! It's weeks since he's seen a barber. He was speechless when I told him who I was, that we're living on Prospect avenue and that we insist on his moving in with us. I don't suppose he dreamed anyone would rescue him."

John blinked. "Are you sure we can make him happy?"

"Oh, yes! He'll love being in this house, having nice clothes and knowing really congenial people."

John smiled. "Set a frog on a golden stool."

"What's that?"

"Nothing," John said. "When do we move him?"

Ellen considered. Lucille Smythe would be in town the next week on her way east. She was a bit snooty. Her father would be with her—he'd once lived in this town. Ellen had seen pictures of Lucille's father, a dignified old gentleman with a pointed white beard.

"Uncle Comstock will come at once," Ellen said firmly.

They left Uncle Comstock's cottage just as it was. He wouldn't need anything there. He was silent on the way to Prospect Avenue. "He's simply bewildered," Ellen whispered to John.

Uncle Comstock looked sweet in his new clothes. Ellen supervised the barber's work. A white mustache and pointed beard made him positively distinguished. After dinner he said he wished he'd brought his plug of chewing tobacco. Ellen patted his hand. "Darling, John has some good cigars." He smiled wistfully.

He did just as Ellen said. "I wonder what he's thinking," Ellen sighed. "He seems so pitiful and wistful, doesn't he?"

"More every day," John said.

Lucille was due on Saturday. At ten she phoned from the station. Ellen found her quite upset. "I've lost Daddy. He went out to talk to the baggage master—and now he's disappeared!"

They looked about and gave up. John met them for luncheon and they shopped. There was a bus tie-up, and they walked across the bridge for the Prospect Avenue bus. As they approached Pete's Place, Ellen saw five or six old "fixtures" on the bench. She thought of poor Uncle Comstock and shivered.

Suddenly her blood froze. Uncle Comstock was sitting right there with the others, chewing tobacco! Desperately, Ellen walked and talked fast, calling Lucille's attention to a landmark across the street. They were safely past when Lucille exclaimed, "I've dropped a package!"

"I'll run back," Ellen said quickly. Then her heart sank as she saw a man rise from the bench, pick up something from the curb and start toward them. But it wasn't Uncle Comstock. It was another old "fixture" who approached them.

"Why—Daddy!" Lucille gasped. "I didn't see you. What are you doing here? Getting the latest on the town?" She laughed nervously.

"Daddy always talks to everyone. Come along, Daddy!" He was very dignified, but he looked pitiful, wistful. Lonely. Like Uncle Comstock.

"John," Ellen said later, "what's the rest of your little poem, 'Set a frog on a golden stool'?"

"Guess," John grinned.

"Is it, 'Back he'll hop into the pool'?"

"Exactly."

"Well, it's true," Ellen admitted.

"We'll let Uncle Comstock have Pete's bench again," she smiled.

Pigeon Brassieres to Be Cut Out Hereafter

PHILADELPHIA. — The army has cancelled contracts for pigeon brassieres.

The signal corps revealed it had so informed a brassiere manufacturer who made bands of lace to be bound around the birds to prevent their injury when carried in paratroopers' pockets.

3 Choose Death To Imprisonment

They Were Caught When the Japs Invaded Moro.

NEW YORK. — Three American civilians chose death to imprisonment when the Japanese invaded the rich Moro island citadel of Jolo on Christmas eve, 1941.

Most prominent perhaps was J. Scott McCormick, an American educator who spent many years in the Philippines and played an important role in establishing American educational methods there. In 1941 McCormick gave up his government post in Manila and came to Jolo to help educate the Moros. He was made superintendent of schools. The Boy Scout movement was a pet interest of his and McCormick became Boy Scout commissioner for Sulu and Mindanao.

When it was plain the Japs intended landing a strong force on Jolo, Moro teachers implored their American "superintendent" to run away. They promised to sail him to a distant island where he could hide among friends.

But McCormick refused. On the day of the Japanese landing he dressed himself in full Scout regalia. Then he went to Jolo high school and set his papers in order. Again teachers begged him to leave but the superintendent said he would not desert his post.

He left the schoolhouse with a few Moro friends and returned to his home. It was there that the Japanese soldiers found him.

When they broke in the door they found McCormick standing proud and erect, without a weapon. His khaki Boy Scout uniform which he had chosen for his last hours proved a death warrant. The Japanese killed him with bullets.

Perry Macklan, an American planter, met death quite differently.

When invasion became imminent, Macklan provided his wife and children with food, and sent them to an old Moro stronghold in the mountains. He stayed behind.

Two days later the Japanese sent two small landing craft loaded with soldiers to Macklan's place. As they streamed ashore they were met with a fusillade of small arms fire. Six Nipponese died before Macklan was killed.

The third American, Antoni Frakian, also a planter, never left the streets of Jolo. When the first Japanese soldier approached him, Frakian spit in his eye. He was immediately shot.

Heroic Pup Gives Life

To Save Two From Fire

CHICAGO. — Edwin Lederer, 27, of 4245 Augusta blvd., owes his life and that of his 17-month-old daughter, Alvaline, to their pet collie puppy, Doo-doo.

When fire spread through the rear of the three-story brick building, Lederer was awakened by the dog's barking and smelled smoke. He snatched the child from her crib and ran down the front stairway to safety from his top-floor apartment. Eight other persons escaped from the building.

Lederer then attempted to re-enter the burning building and rescue Doo-doo, but was restrained by firemen.

Later the dog's body was found among charred debris on the back porch. He apparently died of suffocation.

Lederer, whose wife Laverne, 22, gave birth to a girl recently at the Illinois Masonic hospital, said:

"We're sure going to miss that puppy. He was only three months old, but he saved our lives."

Hires Taxi to Take Him

To River Bank for Suicide

NEW YORK. — A man who identified himself as Elmer Sayre, 21, a discharged veteran, was held for observation at Bellevue hospital recently after hiring a cab to take him to the East river so he could jump in.

Cabbie William Donegan said Sayre hopped into his taxi and said: "Drive me to the East river. I want to jump in." Then his fare asked him, Donegan said, "Is the East river good and deep?" Donegan said, "Sure," as he pulled up in front of a police station.

Wave of Nazi Suicides

Follows Potsdam Decree

NEW YORK. — The French radio, quoting the Stockholm Tidningen, said publication of the Potsdam communique in Germany has been followed by an "enormous wave" of suicides.

The broadcast said 1,200 persons took their lives in Berlin in one week. Leipzig had 600 suicides, Hamburg 458, Frankfurt "a larger figure" and Cologne 300.
